

2008 Presidential Primaries, Caucuses, and Conventions Chronologically

Disclaimer:

These pages contain a combination of preliminary, unofficial, and estimated data. The information posted here is subject to change.

- The delegate selection processes herein, along with any and all dates associated therewith, are unofficial and based on either (1) information obtained from either Major Party, (2) Presidential Primary dates established by currently-effective State statute, or- where the foregoing information could not be obtained- (3) the state's 2004 delegate selection process and associated dates adjusted to the corresponding dates in 2008.
- Republican delegate counts are based on the number of Republicans elected to the State Legislatures, Governors chairs, U.S. House seats, and U.S. Senators seats through 31 December 2007. Republican unpledged delegate counts are determined by state (or equivalent) party rules. We have assumed that the policies of 2004 will apply in 2008.
- Democratic unpledged delegate counts are determined by the number of DNC Members, Democratic Governors, Democratic U.S. House members, and Democratic U.S. Senators serving at the time of the convention. Democratic "Late Primary/Caucus" Bonus Delegates are not included in these delegate tallies.
